Biography: Teddy Anderson

Teddy Anderson graduated from Maxwell International School where he received the highest award that Maxwell has to offer, the Eagle Award. The Eagle award is given to students who demonstrate outstanding scholarship, citizenship, character and service.

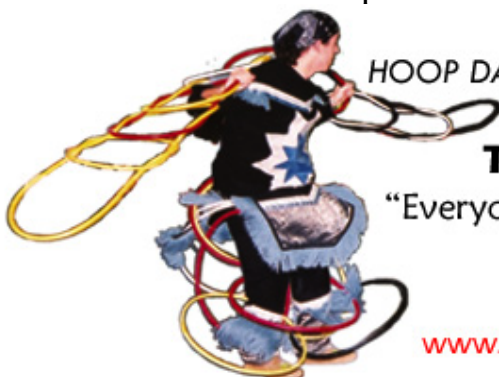

At age 15, Teddy began his hoop dance training under the careful guidance of Scott Ward, a native Salteaux trained in the traditional art of the hoop dance. Beginning with 9 hoops, Teddy's love for the art grew into a passion, his ability rapidly increased to master 30 hoops.

Teddy joined a youth workshop which provided him the opportunity to acquire his performing skills taking him to over 15 countries.

The workshop challenged him to be comfortable speaking to audiences of 2000 students.

Teddy's cultural background is very interesting. He is not native himself but has been adopted into the Tlingit Tribe as a crow. Teddy's mother is Turkmen and his father is a descendent from Europe. The rich cultural history in his life gives him the motivation to spread this message of the oneness of humanity.

The experience of seeing Teddy dance is life changing. Combining the traditional native hoop dancing with a 21st century message he reaches into your heart and imprints a message of unity.

Testimonials:

Elementary School Teacher Response:

“The message of tolerance, acceptance, celebration, cooperation, respect and peace are beneficial to all children. The feedback from teachers and students were very positive. They expressed their appreciation and amazement with the following points:

- They loved being able to try it and learn some dance moves.
- The teachers loved the positive message and stated the kids were the most attentive they have seen to inhabit.
- Teddy had a lot of energy and enthusiasm.
- He’s a great speaker.

I believe that this gift should be shared and I highly recommend Teddy to any organization which hopes to promote the celebration of all cultures and emphasize the virtues we all need to inhabit.”

- Maria Kwan, ESL Teacher, G.W. Skene Community School
